

ENMA 6050: Final Project Report

At this point, you have completed seven project deliverables and have prepared Word documents and appendices for each deliverable. Here, you will integrate your deliverables into a final project Word report. There is no maximum or minimum limit to the length of your report. You do not need to electronically attach your posters appendices to your Word documents, but you need to deliver your report and your appendices in paper and digital format to your project sponsor and course instructor.
